Antigua and St Kitts & Nevis

Charles Walwyn
Managing Partner

"Although the economic situation throughout the Eastern Caribbean Economic Union is still recovering, as many in the region are, there are opportunities for us to grow, not least with the government's introduction of Citizenship by Investment Program and expected new foreign investment. We are leaders in our local market and very ambitious, but we understand the importance of having a strong global brand to help us keep it that way."

Charles Walwyn

Who we are

Grant Thornton Antigua and St Kitts & Nevis, together with Grant Thornton St Lucia covers all eight countries that comprise the Organisation of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS). They are ranked number one in their local markets, and joined Grant Thornton on 1 July 2013.
